

Senate Internship Program

Spring Semester 2010

Informational Session
Monday, October 5
2:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.
Location: 215 Blegen Hall

Looking for an opportunity to gain some real-life work experience? Come to an informational session and hear from University of Minnesota alumnus, Scott Magnuson, about internship opportunities at the State Capitol in St. Paul.

Scott runs the Senate Information Office at the State Capitol and he is also the State Senate's Intern Coordinator. Scott will give a presentation on applying for an internship at the Capitol and discuss some of the work responsibilities you, as an intern, will be given. Senate interns receive a small stipend for their work.

Professor Paul Soper, Internship Director for the Department of Political Science, will also be at the informational session. Professor Soper will discuss the department's internship program and explain how students can receive course credit for their internships.

These internships begin in January when the legislature goes into session and last until May when the session ends. Applications for the program will be available at the information session.
